SHADES OF THE SEASON

While one particular 'millennial' shade may have kicked off pink's popularity, it has transitioned into a much duskier territory, becoming more refined and grown up in the process. Pure pink has moved to softer, rosier shades and muted, near-beige blushes. Bring in blush with a tone-on-tone look - combining and layering these hues creates a sunset effect. Start with a feature wall like Resene Tuscany. Embrace fluidity in your home within open-plan spaces to create multi-purpose areas that can change and adapt, providing fluid transformation from one purpose to another. A dining nook can become a handy office space during the day by adding a screen that can be moved to conceal your work area when guests come over - or, use it to provide some privacy when your work takes you into the evening.
